It is America's oldest professional resident seasonal theater. The performance is "George Washington's Teeth" - A Midwest première by Mark St. Germain. False teeth, false history and genuine laughter. - This zany new comedy follows the exploits of the struggling New Union Historical Society as its members battle the city council to keep the doors open and prevent being banished to the basement of the town's senior center. With time running out to renew their lease, the Society's three female members must find creative ways to snare new associates and lure visitors to their sleepy New England town. When a set of George Washington's dentures turns up in the hands of an unexpected rival, the ladies brace themselves for all-out war. Heartfelt and some-what historic, this new madcap comedy proves that our differences don't divide us, they make us strong. [B,L,D]
